Go Chhattisgarh

1st QUARTER | JANUARY - MARCH, 2015 | CHHATTISGARH | VOLUME 1 | ISSUE 1

What Go Chhattisgarh is all about!

A Brief Intro...

The Chhattisgarh Tourism Board (CTB) was established in 2002 to promote the tourism industry in the fledgling state of Chhattisgarh. Its core responsibility is to develop a favourable framework for private, public and community participation in sustainable tourism development.

Chhattisgarh is a true eco and ethno ecstasy and CTB is doing its best to retain the rich heritage and natural diversity. This newsletter is an initiative to reach out to people about the latest happenings in the Chhattisgarh Tourism Sector. It will not only encapsulate the efforts of CTB towards making Chhattisgarh a heaven for its guests but also portray the beauty of this eco-ethno wonderland.

Chhattisgarh has innovated and updated its hotel standards with a well-trained staff so that it can lead to customer satisfaction. This newsletter comes with all the many shades of this evergreen wonderland and provides glimpses of its latest happenings, applauses, developments, festivals and noteworthy progress. We hope the readers will love it and follow it through!

Dr. Raman Singh Hon'ble Chief Minister

I convey my heartiest compliments to Chhattisgarh Tourism Board for the newsletter 'Go Chhattisgarh'.

India has a great tourism potential and to facilitate private sector initiative, while promoting a scientific approach to planning, management and development of sustainable tourism, Chhattisgarh is the best place to have been chosen. And Chhattisgarh Tourism Board, which constantly strives to contribute significantly to the tourism promotion of the state, has again proved its mettle by publishing 'Go Chhattisgarh'.

I am confident that the efforts made in this regard would be fruitful and may this Newsletter be a grand success.

Shri. Ajay Chandrakar Hon'ble Minister of Tourism

I am glad to learn that the Chhattisgarh Tourism Board is coming up with its first issue of Go Chhattisgarh.

Chhattisgarh as a state has unexplored destinations and a huge untapped tourism potential, from Rural Tourism to Eco & Ethno Tourism, Religious, Culture and Heritage Tourism with its diverse topography and geopolitical heritage.

The newsletter 'Go Chhattisgarh' is sure to be another example of excellent deliberation that will produce a feasible frame work for development in the sector.

Please accept my best wishes for the success of the Newsletter.

Shri. R.C.Sinha (IAS) Secretary Tourism

I am glad to be a part of Go Chhattisgarh, the quarterly newsletter by the Chhattisgarh Tourism Board. Tourism has emerged as a global industry and has a crucial role in the economic growth of the country. I am glad that the Chhattisgarh Government has always kept tourism on its priority list. Essentially for its potential to spur economic growth and to generate employment. I hope GO Chhattisgarh will reflect the progressive & the magnetic potential of the Chhattisgarh Tourism Board, and surge tourism in the state.

Shri. Santosh Misra (IAS) MD, CTB

I am pleased to be an active part of the GO Chhattisgarh, the quarterly Newsletter by Chhattishgarh Tourism Board.

Chhattisgarh has many reasons to attract tourists because of its variety of tourist attractions. Chhattisgarh Tourism Board being a dynamic and forward looking organization, has recognized this potential and has taken the initiative of publishing the newsletter. The state has various dimensions of tourism from Rural to Tribal Tourism, from Heritage to Eco-tourism and Ethnic Tourism. This is a great opportunity where we can all come together and take this initiative to higher avenues.

I hope that this endeavour achieves its desired objectives and at my end, I pledge to work towards the same tirelessly till the goal of bringing Chhattisgarh Tourism on the International Tourist Map is reached.

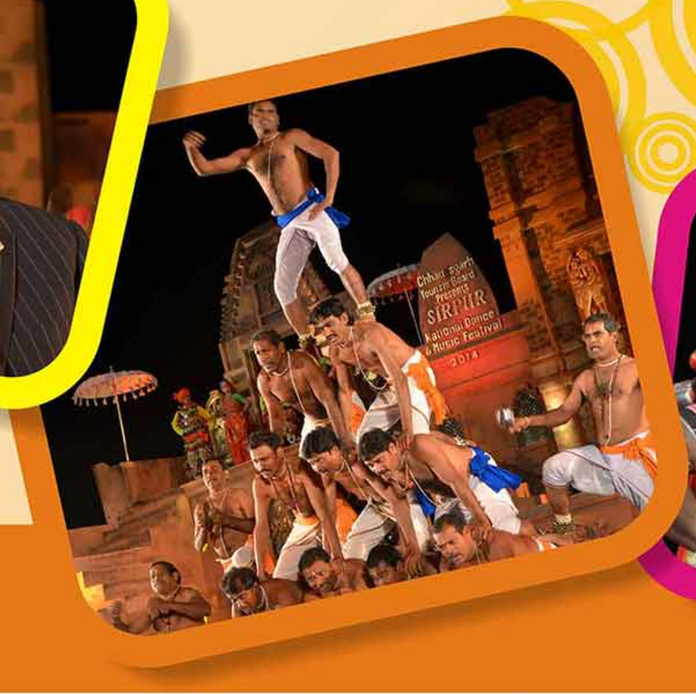
Sirpur's Timeless Legacy

Sirpur boasts a historic past. It is scripting a glorious future.

Since time immemorial, Sirpur has been an important pilgrimage site of Buddhism, Jainism and Hinduism.Such was its glory that the famed Chinese traveller Huien Tsang visited the holy town in the 7th Century CE, marvelling at what he called the pillar of Buddhism. In fact, Buddhist pre-eminence here spanned four centuries – 6th to 10th BCE.

This ancient legacy has been preserved. Amongst the numerous temples and Buddhist viharas (monasteries), those that stand out are the Gandheshwar Temple, Anandprabhu Kutir Vihara, Swastika Vihara, the stunning Tivaradeva Mahavihara and the Laxman Temple.

The last mentioned provides the artistic backdrop for what is fast making Sirpur the centre of art and culture. Since 2013, this is ground zero of the already famous Sirpur National Dance and Music Festival. Held in January every year, it attracts renowned artistes from across the country and around the world. The latest edition brought together talent as diverse as legends like Pt. Birju Maharaj, renowned percussionist Pete Lockett, American saxophonist and composer George Brooks, Jazz percussionist Phil Maturano, playback singer Anuradha Paudwal, sitar player Ustaad Shujaat Husain Khan, Vidwan Vikku Vinayakram and santoor exponent Rahul Sharma.



The previous editions saw performances of renowned artists from across the nation such as Pt. Chhannulal Mishra, Pt. Hariprasad Chaurasia, Smt. Madhavi Mudgal, Shri Prahlad Singh Tipaniya and group, Smt. Shubha Mudgal, Smt. Teejanbai and Shri Wadali Brothers.

The festival additionally gives local artistes and tribals the opportunity to showcase their talents on the global stage, thereby also giving the world a glimpse of Chhattisgarh's own traditional art forms.

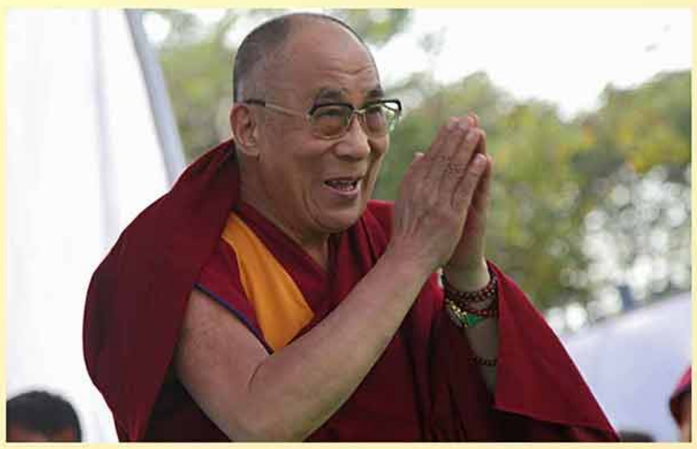
The three-day festival is organised by Chhattisgarh Tourism Board with the aim of promoting Sirpur as a World Heritage Site. Now an integral part of the state's tourism thrust, it is a rare confluence of art and culture aimed at fostering international cultural amity and brotherhood.

Every year Chhattisgarh Tourism Board invite ambassadors from south east Asian countries during the festival. Last year, ambassador of the Republic of Korea, H.E. Mr. Lee Jun Gyu and the year before Srilankan High Commissioner, H.E. Mr. Prasad Kariawasam graced the occasion during the inaugural function This year Ambassador of Laos, H.E. Mr. Southam Sakonhninhon, Mr. Tran Quang Tuyen, Deputy Head of Mission, Vietnam were present on the occasion.

Sirpur Blessed by His Holiness Dalai Lama's Visit

Talking of Sirpur, we cannot forget its importance as an internationally renowned Buddhist Pilgrimage destination. Sirpur is fast becoming popular the world over! The beauty of this magical place has beckoned the presence of His Holiness Dalai Lama twice in last one year. In March 2013 spiritual guru and Nobel Prize winner has quoted that he felt eternal peace in Sirpur and would love to meditate here again for an hour. The enchanting remains seem to echo with the Lord's holy presence and every soul stands blessed!

In January 2014, the Tibetan spiritual leader the Dalai Lama meditated for 20 minutes at the "Chanda Dai caves" near Sirpur on the hills of Singhadhurva in the district of Mahasamund. These hills are located at around 17 km from Sirpur town and house more than 15 caves. According to the Archaeological experts, Nagarjuna, who is considered the most prominent Buddhist philosophers after Lord Buddha had meditated in these caves somewhere between first and second century. This is the second visit of His Holiness Dalai Lama at Sirpur in the last 10 months. In 2013, His Holiness Dalai Lama was enchanted by the Vaishnav, Jain and Shaiva culture and had expressed his desire to visit Sirpur again in 2014. The Tibetan spiritual leader travelled to Sirpur by road amid tight security. The troopers were deployed at every few hundred metres between Tumgaon and Sirpur.



A nondescript town perched on the banks of the Mahanadi River; Sirpur has always been an international highlight due to its breathtaking excavations and rare archeological findings. Unmatched stone carvings, along with 22 Shiva temples, 4 Vishnu temples, 10 Budha Vihars, and 3 Jain Vihars, an Ayurveda treatment centre, underground granary market and a sixth century 'Ayurvedic Snaan Kund' (an ancient spa) at the monastery, puts Sirpur in the list of the richest archaeological sites. Sirpur boasts of one of the finest brick temples, the magnificently crafted Laxman Temple, and the equally beautiful Gandheshwar temple.

"The history of Sirpur is glorious. I am now carrying the memories of Lord Buddha from here."

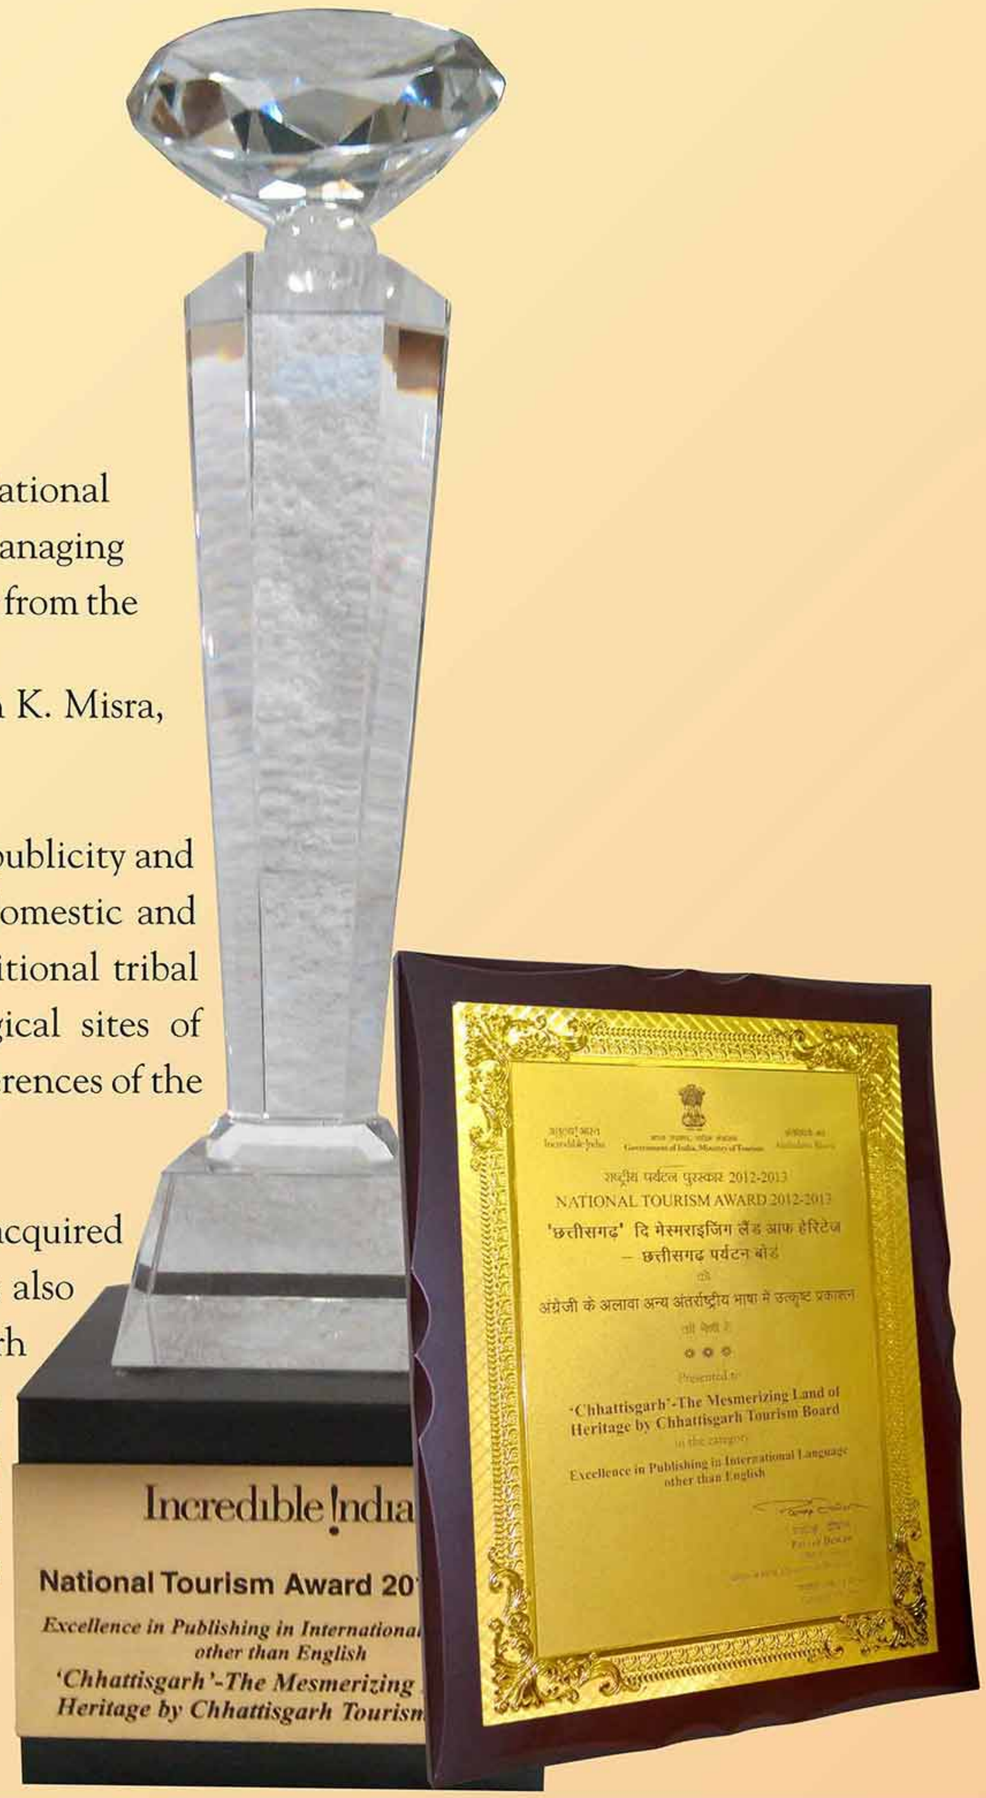
Another Laurel to CTB's credit!

CTB won National Tourism Award 2012-13 in the category of "Excellence in Publishing."

Chhattisgarh Tourism Board has added one more feather in its cap by winning the National Tourism Award 2012-13 in the category of "Excellence in Publishing". The Managing Director and the General Manager, Chhattisgarh Tourism Board received this honour from the then Minister of State for Human Resource Development, Shri Shashi Tharoor.
"It's a proud moment for us. Our efforts are finally getting recognized." Mr. Santosh K. Misra, MD, Chhattisgarh Tourism Board said on the occasion.

Chhattisgarh Tourism Board has emerged as a leader in the field of promotion and publicity and has published its promotional literature that caters to different types of tourists, domestic and foreign both. The booklet in seven languages which got the award highlights traditional tribal culture, arts and crafts, nature and wildlife, religion, historical and archaeological sites of Chhattisgarh. This booklet was published keeping in mind the varied tastes and preferences of the visiting population.

Chhattisgarh has gained substantial foothold in the domestic tourism sector and has acquired recognition as one of the most promising tourist destinations in the country. It is also spreading its wings to lure international tourists. The contribution of Chhattisgarh Tourism Board in this regard is beyond words. As a nodal agency Chhattisgarh Tourism Board is responsible for infrastructural and institutional development of its tourist resources. It is taking various initiatives that include aggressive marketing and promotion at national and international level through its participation in various events, print media such as important magazines, periodicals and news papers.



Colours of Chhattisgarh at Surajkund International Crafts Mela

It is after 10 years, Chhattisgarh returned as the theme state at India's biggest craft and cultural fair - the Surajkund International Crafts Mela held annually at Haryana. This achievement was possible due to the focused efforts of the Chhattisgarh Tourism Board and Chhattisgarh Government. Surajkund International Crafts Mela (SICM) is India's marquee fair that showcases the vibrancy of India's culture to the world and hosts more than 10 lakh visitors every year that includes more than six lakh foreign tourists. Chhattisgarh presented its diverse art and crafts and introduced little-known tribal culture and traditions. Besides artifacts of metal and wood, works of art in bell metal (dokra) and terracotta were exhibited. The presentation also featured kosa silk sarees and clay murals which are amongst the most specialised art forms of Chhattisgarh.

Chhattisgarh's fabrics, weavers and craftsmen set the ramp on fire at the fashion show along with talented designers from the National Institute of Fashion Technology (NIFT). The show was a hit amid the crowd. It was a collaborative effort between NIFT and the Chhattisgarh Handloom Development & Marketing Federation. The idea was to create market-friendly, profitable ventures.

The show began with models flaunting garments personifying rich traditional values and modern ideas. Folksy patterns and artful collage of muted as well as bright colours were anchored in simple neutrals, giving a very ethnic feel to the fusion collection.

The aim was an effort to reinvent the beautiful kosa silk saris of Chhattisgarh as a new fashion statement. The kosa silk is an auspicious fabric worn for weddings and religious ceremonies and its main production hub of Kosa is Champa. The presentation took this soft, pure yet sturdy traditional fabric to realms of the modern textile and apparel market.

At the fair, folk and dance traditions of various states were staged to stir a spirit of national integration. Besides, cuisine of Chhattisgarh's mouthwatering bafuari, bhindi kadhi, et al were enjoyed by visitors.

Over 300 artists from Chhattisgarh worked day and night to bring alive the cultures and tradition of the state at the fair. The state showcased its handicrafts, art and culture in about a 100 stalls. It displayed godna painting, replica of Lord Ganesha Temple at Barsoor, Rudra Shiva of Tala, depiction of melas and madhais, dances like sua and gedi.

WORK OF HONOUR

The Hon'ble Governor of Chhattisgarh, Shri Balramji Das Tandon complimented the Government of Haryana for its efforts and said that the Surajkund Mela offered a great platform for the next generations to connect with India's culture and folk arts. At the fair, Chhattisgarh's godhna silk weaver Seema won the Kala Shree award while Ravindra, a bell-metal sculptor bagged the Kala Nidhi award. The fair has played an important role in showcasing Chhattisgarh's arts and crafts to the international and national level. Mr. Santosh Misra, Managing Director of the Chhattisgarh Tourism Board said, "Such initiatives focus on the uniqueness of Chhattisgarh's arts, crafts, textiles, fabrics, weaving and most importantly the craftsmen."

RAJIM KUMBH

3rd February to 17th February 2015

A transforming experience!

The Kumbh Mela is believed to be the largest religious gathering in the world. Yet, even if that is statistically debatable, there can be no doubt about the religious significance and intensity of faith that accompanies this triennial event. It's an intensity that extends to the Rajim Kumbh Mela that is held every year.

According to Hindu Mythology, a Kumbh Mela can only take place at a spot where the Almighty himself resides. Legend has it that Rajim is one such hallowed location – the abode of Lord Vishnu's reincarnation, Rajiv Lochan. In keeping with this divine significance, a Kumbh Mela unfolds here every year. Beginning with Maagh Purnima and lasting till Mahashivratri, Rajim Kumbh draws sages from all over the country along with lacs of devotees.

Rajim is considered by many to be the holiest place in all of Chhattisgarh. Its elevated status is further accentuated by its location – on the eastern bank of the River Mahanadi, at its confluence with the Pairi and Sondhur rivers. Because of this location, Rajim is often classified as a Prayaga of Chhattisgarh. Given that the Mahanadi enjoys the same status as the Ganga, bathing in it and performing rituals on its banks, and especially at the Triveni Sangam, is considered very sacred.

The aura of Rajim extends beyond its immediate contours. It is said that a journey to the Jagannath Temple in the neighbouring state of Odisha remains incomplete without visiting Rajim. Similarly, it is a must-visit on the itineraries of history and mythology buffs, for whom the biggest attraction would be the famed Shri Rajiv Lochan Mandir and its accompanying Vamana and Narasimha shrines. An equally remarkable site which has attracted archaeologists and architectural admirers from around the world is Shri Kuleshvara Mahadeva Mandir.

The mela itself holds a charm of its own. The festivity and tradition evoke a celebratory ambience that is universally enjoyable. But even as the mela winds down, the celebrations take on a new intensity with the arrival of Mahashivratri which marks the conclusion of the Rajim Kumbh.

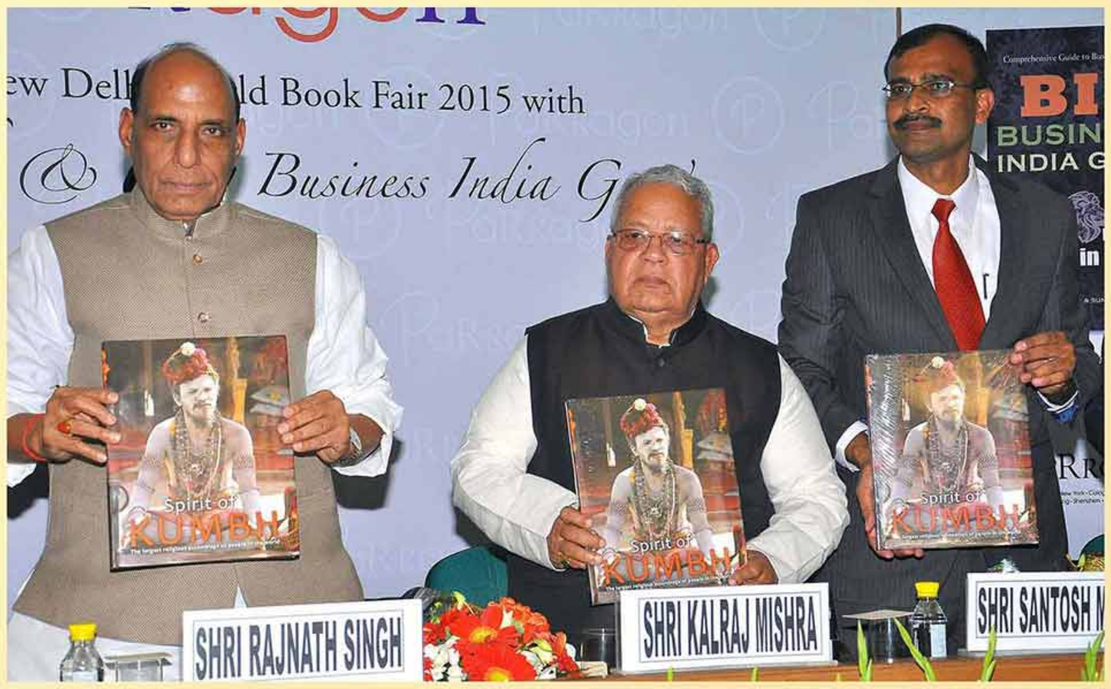
Set into Chhattisgarh with its amazing natural and manmade diversity, Rajim offers everyone an experience to cherish. The ultimate experience of course, is a visit driven by faith. The two weeks of the Rajim Kumbh can be a truly transforming experience.

Spirit of Kumbh

Shri Santosh K Misra, IAS, Managing Director, Chhattisgarh Tourism Board launched his book "Spirit of Kumbh" at India Habitat Centre in the Capital today. The Honorable Union Home Minister, Shri Rajnath Singh, the Honorable Union Minister for MSMEs Shri Kalraj Mishra and the Tourism Secretary, Government of India Dr. Lalit Panwar graced the occasion to launch the book authored(photographed) by Mr. Misra.

Capturing the essence of the world's largest religious gathering, the book features breath-taking photographs of two of the holiest 'Maha Kumbh Melas', that of Haridwar (2010) and Prayag (2013). Mr. Santosh Misra (IAS) unravels his journey across the Kumbh trail in this landmark work- showcasing a journey of the spirit, mind and the body.

Compiled over a period of five years, Mr. Misra records interesting anecdotes, both with pictures and words that span across a diverse range of experiences. Every photo is wrapped in a story and every shot unravels a long eventful tale - some from the past, some from the present and some still revealing the future.



Lonely Planet launches a series of books displaying an insightful 360° view of Chhattisgarh.

The world's most successful travel information provider, Lonely Planet launched its series of travel guides for various Chhattisgarh destinations at this year's Sirpur National Dance & Music festival. Hon'ble Chief Minister of Chhattisgarh Dr. Raman Singh unveiled five extensive travel information books viz. Pocket Sirpur, Temple Trips Chhattisgarh, Nature Trips Chhattisgarh, Tribal Culture Chhattisgarh and Pocket Bastar. Global CEO of Lonely Planet Mr. Daniel Houghton was also present on this occassion.

Bastar Dushehra

Bastar Dushehra, a festive celebration, which spans over 75 days is believed to be the longest Dushehra festival in the world. This magnificent tradition is unique as it doesn't celebrate the win of Rama over Ravana. Instead it revels in the congregation of Danteshwari Devi and her sisters. The event is an exuberant showcase of extraordinary tribal rituals on different days. The biggest procession of the festival is the Rath Yatra, wherein the chariots of goddesses decked with flowers are carried out.
